

The Bay Area Teacher Development Collaborative

ANNOUNCING A SPECIAL OPPORTUNITY FOR BOARD MEMBERS AND SCHOOL HEADS

How Do We Lead? A Conversation about Diversity

Thursday, October 21, 2010

4:00-7:00 pm

Marin Country Day School

Join Bay Area independent school Heads and Trustees as they engage Dr. Steven Jones in a thought-provoking discussion on Diversity Leadership in the 21st Century. Dr. Jones will facilitate a dialog to:

- Examine our local past in this work and begin charting a bold, new course for our collective present and future.
- Assess where the Bay Area independent school community is on this continuum.
- Interpret the ground-breaking mini-documentary by Mohammad Soriano-Bilal, Bay Area resident, educator, filmmaker and independent school alum.
- Preview the workshop the Bay Area Teacher Development Collaborative will offer member teachers on Friday, October 22nd at the French American International School.

This session will focus on leadership rather than the fundamentals of diversity. Join us to help pave the way toward a brighter future.

This event is free of charge to member schools. We suggest sending a group from each school. To reserve spaces please contact Janet McGarvey: mccgarvey@batdc.org
